

FAMILIES · FOR ANYONE FACING COURT

ORVIA THRESHOLD

Papers everywhere. A hearing date. And nobody to help you make sense of it.

ORVIA Threshold. We go through your evidence before court, put it in order, and tell you honestly what it shows.

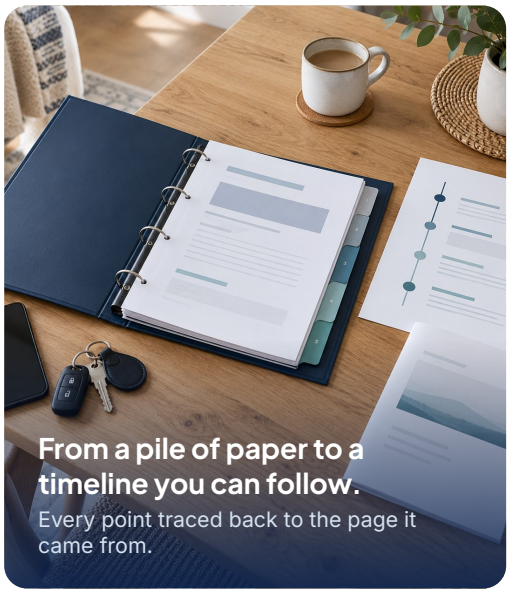

For the family court, a tribunal, a safeguarding process or an accusation. Tell us what you need found. We read every page, build your timeline, check what's behind the documents, and help you get your side down on paper.

Read this first: we are not solicitors, and this is not legal advice.
We don't represent you, we don't speak for you in court, and we will never tell you how your case will end.

Recognise this?

- The kids are in bed, and the letters are out on the kitchen table again.
- Someone has made an accusation about you. You know what happened. You don't know how to show it.
- A social work report says things you don't recognise, and everyone is treating it as fact.
- A position statement or a court form is due, and you don't know where to start.
- Hundreds of texts, emails and screenshots. No timeline. No idea which bits matter.

You're not failing. It's a lot of paper, and nobody has shown you how to put it in order.

From a pile of paper to a timeline you can follow.
Every point traced back to the page it came from.

WHAT WE CAN LOOK INTO FOR YOU

Your papers in order
A timeline, an index, and a clear list of what's missing.

Fact or opinion?
Reports read over, line by line. What's shown, what's said, what's assumed.

What's behind a document
File details like when it was made or changed, where the file holds them.

What's public
Open-source research: public records and what's openly online. Lawful only.

HOW IT WORKS

STEP 1
Call us
20 minutes, no obligation. Tell us what's happening and when your hearing is. Don't send papers yet.

STEP 2
Tell us what to look for
Names, words, dates, the questions on your mind. We work to that.

STEP 3
Agree it in writing
What we'll do, by when, and the price. All agreed before we start.

STEP 4
Share it privately
We set up a private way to send your papers. Never the website form.

STEP 5
You get your pack
A person at ORVIA checks it. You read it, and you decide how to use it.

ORVIA Threshold is a service of ORVIA Oversight Ltd (Companies House 16123685 · ICO ZC152311). Evidence review, not legal advice. ORVIA is not a law firm and is not regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority. Independent and non-statutory. Images are illustrative.

CLEAR LINES

What you get. And exactly where we stop.

What we do

- A timeline: what happened, when, and which document says so.
- An evidence map: what you've got, what's missing, what's disputed.
- Fact kept apart from opinion in safeguarding and social work reports, with gaps and contradictions listed.
- Searches for the words and names you give us across your texts, emails and papers.
- A look at file details and public sources, if they could help, with the limits written down.
- Help putting your position statement and court forms into words. Your facts, your words. You check them, sign them and send them yourself.
- A plain-English summary, plus questions to take to a solicitor or the hearing.

What we never do

- We're not solicitors, and this isn't legal advice. ORVIA isn't regulated by the SRA.
- We don't represent you. We don't speak for you in court or deal with the court, the other side or social services for you.
- We never predict the outcome or tell you your chances.
- We don't decide whether an allegation is true, and we don't make safeguarding decisions.
- We don't file or send anything for you. You're the one who signs.
- Nothing unlawful. No getting into anyone's accounts or phone. No following people.
- What you tell us isn't legally privileged, the way a talk with your solicitor is. Not an emergency service.

TWO THINGS WE'LL ALWAYS BE HONEST ABOUT

If your case is about children, the children come first.

For us too. If something we read worries us about a child's safety, we'll tell you straight away and point you to the right people to contact.

If we find something that doesn't help you, we'll say so.

Kindly, but plainly, and only to you. Better you hear it from us now than for the first time in court.

We're on the side of the truth. That's what makes the pack worth having.

PRICE

Ask us

Every case is different: how much paper there is, how soon the hearing is, and what you need from us.

You get the price in writing before we start.

TWO THINGS WORTH KNOWING

You might get free legal help.

Check at gov.uk/check-legal-aid before you pay anyone, including us.

Family court papers about children are private.

GOV.UK says you can share them to get confidential help with your case. We'll go through this with you before you send anything.

Not sure we're the right help? Ask.

20 minutes, no obligation. Tell us what's going on and when your hearing is. If we're not the right help, we'll say so and tell you where to look.
